veneet@sa-dhan.org

Veneet holds a post-graduate degree in Rural Development & Governance from Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS), Hyderabad, and a Bachelor's in Electrical & Electronics Engineering from Nitte Meenakshi Institute of Technology, Karnataka. He started his career in a power plant working as an operation engineer, where he spent over two years in the operation & maintenance of a thermal power plant in Odisha. Post completion of his master's, he has mainly worked in development research across themes such as livelihood, Financial Inclusion, MSME and Education in an evaluative role. He has worked across the entire research workflow — from design, data collection, analysis and its dissemination. Veneet is always eager to learn, adapt, and contribute meaningfully in dynamic environments.
